PRO BONO

Aware of the social environment in which it operates, TFRA seeks to play an active role in the society being involved in social and cultural activities aimed to provide underprivileged institutions with access to the legal protection and promotion of their rights and interests. TFRA provides free legal services to social welfare institutions, furthering the human and social development of its lawyers and providing access to law to the less privileged.

Nariz Vermelho

TFRA is proud to cooperate with Operação Nariz Vermelho Association – www.narizvermelho.pt – an IPSS operating in the area of health. This initiative consists of a continuous program of visits by professional clowns to children's wards of Portuguese hospitals. In close collaboration with health professionals, the clowns give short performances adapted to each child and particular situations. As well as enjoyment, the performances contribute to improving the children's quality of life and often to their health as well, by stimulating their healthy side and making their hospital stay a more pleasant experience. The NGO visits 13 hospitals a week and has been recognized in 2006 with the Diploma of Merit granted by the Portuguese Bar Association and in 2009 with the Human Rights Prize awarded by the Portuguese Parliament.

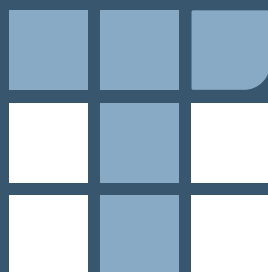

ART COLLECTION

TFRA is the depository of the Teixeira de Freitas Collection, a contemporary art collection that focuses on works from the previous two decades and on emerging artists. The collection also includes a number of historical works from the 1960s and 1970s, which provide a historical background to the different themes and concepts covered by the collection. The collection's main focus is on works that develop subjects connected to architecture. Other subjects covered by the collection include literature, handwriting, contemporary painting and drawing.

As well as the Teixeira de Freitas Collection, TFRA is also the depository of a collection of artists' books, special editions and ephemera that include more than 1000 works. Since 2012 TFRA has supported the annual exhibition programmes of Kunsthalles Lisbon, an alternative space devoted to temporary exhibitions of contemporary art.
